PRODUCT OVERVIEW

The ChillCore Series CCAIM200 undercounter air-cooled ice maker is a compact, high-capacity solution for kitchens and bars that require reliable ice production. Constructed from stainless steel, it offers durability and easy cleaning for daily use.

With overall dimensions of 26 (W) × 27.4 (D) × 37 (H) inches, this freestanding unit fits neatly under counters while producing up to 200 lb of cube ice in 24 hours. The 80 lb bin capacity provides ready access to ice for immediate use, and adjustable ice thickness allows customization for different beverages or service needs. A built-in ice full indicator alerts staff when the bin is full.

The machine features a bottom-mounted compressor for efficient operation and precise, consistent ice production. Digital controls provide easy management of ice output. Standing on four 4.3-inch legs, it ensures stable placement and proper airflow beneath the unit.

Operating on 115 V/60 Hz with 575 W of power and using energy-efficient R-290 refrigerant, this commercial air-cooled ice maker meets DOE and ETL certifications for safe and compliant operation. Backed by a 1-year limited warranty, this air-cooled ice maker is a dependable, space-saving choice for busy commercial environments.
