PRODUCT OVERVIEW

The ChefPro Series wall panel is designed for restaurants and commercial kitchen environments requiring wall protection and surface coverage. It is constructed from stainless steel with a 430 material type and #4 finish. The panel measures 48" (L) x 120" (H), supporting wall coverage in prep and cooking areas.

The 20 gauge construction supports routine use in commercial kitchen environments. The smooth wipeable surface supports cleaning in food handling areas. The extra-wide design supports coverage across larger wall sections for safety applications.

This unit includes 2 end caps and 1 seam strip for each panel ordered after the first, supporting installation and panel connection. The stainless steel construction supports use in commercial kitchen environments with regular maintenance.

The panel provides fire protection as part of its application in kitchen setups. It is categorized as a wall panel and includes a 1-year warranty by the manufacturer.
